Big Mountain Productions delivers a ground-breaking 2 part drama documentary series for RTE 1

Northern Ireland Indie, Big Mountain Productions has just delivered a ground breaking 2 part drama documentary to RTE 1. 'High Society' documents cocaine use amongst the middle classes, based on first hand testimonials from the drug users themselves.

Commissioned by Kevin Dawson and Assistant Commissioner, Tonyia Dowling the series starts on Thursday 8th November at 2215.

Big Mountain is headed by ex- RTE and BBC senior Producer/directors, Philip McGovern and Jane Kelly. Barely two years old, the company has already delivered three series of their original factual entertainment format 'Jam' to RTE and produced a number of popular documentaries for BBC and has recently been awarded the RDP scheme, backed by Channel 4.
